Aman with a plan

Is the Aman chain trying to take over the world? After recent hotel openings in Beijing, Delhi and Laos, in September it will be taking on America with Amangiri, at Canyon Point, Utah (amanresorts.com; doubles from £365). It looks spectacular: out on its own in a vast red landscape of buttes and mesas. You expect John Wayne to gallop past the floor-to-ceiling windows any minute — although he might have thought the pool, spa and custom-cooled wine cellar a bit sissy.
